Farmers And Strikers.
Some farmers in Hungary are treated to a dose of what may be expected from the farmers' sympathy with organizations of laborers. Near Belar a large band of rapers struck—as is a custom in harvest time—for higher wages. When their demands were refused they acted up on what grain they supposed was their share of the crop. Not only this, but they grew riotous and threatened to burn the farmer's house and lay waste his fields. The soldiers were sent to protect the property, when the commander was killed by one of the strikers. It took forty rounds to disperse the mob. Farmers have nothing to gain by giving encouragement directly or indirectly to labor strikes and much to lose. In the first place strikes generally lead to disorder and riot, and farmers can proceed only in times of peace. Besides the effort of labor leaders is to organize into one body all the labor in factory, mine, public and private works, and in the field. What chance will a farmer have against the demands of farm labor supported by the combined unions in all departments of labor? They will simply say the very life from his business and leave him the chief and bulk of the harvest to relegate himself in the season of repentance and reflection.

The farmer is not considered and he must not be expected to lend sympathy to a movement, which means hostility to his interests. Any exactions enforced against capital will be added to the farmer's bill when he buys an article and pays freight on it.

The true sympathy to extend to laborers, and the public generally, is low tariff, prevention of trusts, combines and monopolies, sound, flexible and abundant currency for business purposes, economy in expenditures and low taxes, clean, honest government from magisterial distrust to the Presidential chair. In order to have these, there should be no secret political organizations of all classes for their own selfish ends. After all the strife and turmoil stirred up by labor organizations and partisan demagogues in the past ten years and like the condition as we picture could only follow the millennium, but the nearer we come to it the better. This free, fair, call upon the soldiers to put down riots is not propitious of the future of this republic, and it is a condition which naturally allows organization for selfish purposes—whether it be of labor or capital. The ballot box is the place to settle the matter. Let laws be made to prevent trusts and combines and there will be less need for labor to secretly organize.—Farmers Home Journal.

A pain in the side or back and spots on the face indicate kidney trouble, says order, Mr. Geo. P. Eckes, Lorain, Va., says: "I had kidney trouble for over two years. Have tried different kinds of kidney medicine, but got no relief. I was not able to ride horseback and scarcely able to attend to my business. I commenced using Lightning Kidney and Liver Remedy, and before I had used one bottle I began to improve. I have taken four or five bottles and am now cured." For sale by all druggists.

Wide Awake.
There is a fitting instance of natural selection in the contributions of summer tales to the August Wide Awake. Annie Sawyer Down, one of the best practical botanists, tells how to botanize. Prof. Charles E. Pay of the peripatetic Appalachian tells how not to get lost in the woods. Captain Julius A. Palmer, Jr., an acknowledged nautical authority, tells the difference between starboard and port. Willis Boyd Allen, the veteran camper, tells how to make a fire, and Charles M. Skinner, a veritable "globe trotter," tells how to take a walking tour. Not one of these brief papers but is full of real suggestive and practical advice. Please to send a number. For sale at Babbs's news stand.

BEWLEYVILLE.
Big sales at the Cash last week.
Squire Martin held court in town Saturday.
Col. El. Bennett, of Semmesport, is quite ill.
Quite a crowd of our people attended the Garfield picnic Saturday.
Mr. J. A. Goss, of Louisville, gave the Cash Store a call last week.
Mrs. A. Bennett is spending several days with her parents at Plains.
Quite a number of our young people attended church at Guston Sunday.
Messrs. E. Henderson and Joe Bland attended the picnic at Garrett Saturday.
Mr. Crawford, representing a New Albany drug house, was in the city last week.
Mr. Allen Smith, of Smith's Valley, passed through the city en route from Hardinsburg.
Mr. Geo. Drury says he will take his hat off to the man who wears a Cleveland hat.
Miss Ellen Huckleby, of Hardinsburg, is visiting her grand-daughter, Mrs. W. J. Higgins.
Mr. A. Bennett went to Louisville last week to attend the burial of his sister, Mrs. Willie Pennington.
Mr. Kutter, of the Weiler, Woolfolk, Payne Co., Louisville, called on the Cash Store last week.
Mr. Jack Drury arrived several days ago in our city, left Friday for Chicago to resume his official duties.
Mr. Arthur Walker and Mr. Herbert Cain attended an entertainment at Garrettsville Thursday evening.
Don't fail to call at the Cash and get one of those handsome Cleveland hats before the stock is exhausted.
Misses, Nannally and Clayton, who have been visiting the Misses Cox left Monday for their homes in Louisville.
Mr. Hawkins, of Louisville, will conduct religious worship at the M. E. church Saturday evening at 7 o'clock.
The many friends and relatives in this county of Mrs. Willie Pennington will long with regret at her death which occurred at her home in Louisville July 21st.
The young men of this place will give a grand picnic at Jordan's Park, August 5th. All the candidates will be present. Come one, come all and enjoy an old-fashioned picnic.

SANDY HILL.
As a general liniment for sprains and bruises or for rheumatism, lame back, dead sores or muscular pains, Chamberlain's Pain Balm is unrivaled. For sale by A. R. Fisher.

Miss Nellie Harris, of Louisville, is a visitor at Mrs. Annie W. Herndon's.
Miss Hettie Hendrick left here Monday for a protracted stay in Hardinsburg.

Rev. E. H. Maddox, of Owensboro, filled his regular appointment here Saturday and Sunday.
Mrs. Cecile Curran, of Union, Ind., is spending the summer with her daughter, Mrs. Stanley D. Kosma.
The farmers that have thrashed their wheat in this vicinity are perfectly exultant over the exuberant yield.
Prof. William D. Ashcraft and sister Miss Amelia, visited Union Star last week, the guests of Mrs. D. E. Richardson.
Mr. J. L. Henry and daughter, Miss Nellie Glimore, have returned home from a visit of several days in Eastern Kentucky.
As we have no correspondence regularly from this place, I suppose any one of us who desire to send items are privileged so to do.

Mr. H. W. Hornsden, the well-known commission merchant, of Louisville, is rusticated at "Oak Hall," and the home of his boyhood this week.
Mrs. J. A. Witt, of Hardinsburg, accompanied by her little daughter Allen, have returned home after a pleasant visit to their sister Mrs. Henry Ashcraft.
Our victory was visited last week by a porcine purchaser, paying from 5 to 54 cents. Have learned that he only acquired very few, however, the sale, quite inflexible and some will be put on the fall market.
Mr. Chris Ashcraft has been employed as preceptor of the fall term of the school at this place. Mr. Ashcraft is a young man of sterling ability, and unusual acrobatics, Ego, your week since wishes him unparalleled success.
Miss Francis Childs takes quite a great deal of interest in flowers, and all who have visited her garden this season declare it to be more beautiful than ever before. It has not been my privilege, however, to make a tour in the realm of that portion of our community, but judging from her bouquets of letters, would think her to be extremely fond of the "Hare bell."
Mad dogs and hydrophobia seem to be the universal topic at present, but as yet only one has been killed. J. Davis Ashcraft "done it" for him one morning last week on his father's farm, but not until after it had done considerable damage, not only from a point of finance but the nervous system of the feminine gender is so thoroughly shocked, we fear they will not soon recover, especially the "unkindness."
Mr. Geo. H. Anderson and wife, Miss Pannie Childs, and Mr. H. L. Bell, of Guston; Miss Nellie Henderson, Mr. L. E. Henderson, of Irvington; Miss Yellow, of Louisville; Miss Mattie Shacklett, of Hardinsburg; Mr. Henry Shacklett, of Brandenburg; Mr. T. W. Lyddan, of Webster; and Prof. W. D. Ashcraft composed a dinner party were entertained at little the 17th by Mrs. Jesse Ashcraft. To say that we fared sumptuously, or was entertained in true Kentucky hospitable style would be useless, for as a hostess Mrs. Ashcraft has scarcely a parallel and no superior.
Mr. Albert Hambrick, who is so familiarly known in Meade and Breckenridge counties has always been quite a ladies' man, and now in his declining years, and since his citizenship has been transferred to our community, he seems more gallant than formerly. He is especially fond of "young" ladies, and to each of the ones mentioned below, he has alloted a sobriquet that is appropriate as an explanation of their disposition or type as the name may designate: Miss Lucy R. Young, sunshine; Miss Goss L. Ashcraft, precious jewel; Miss Amelia A. Ashcraft, lady bird; Miss Nellie Baskett, morning star; Miss Vina Baskett, aurora; Miss Nellie Henry, golden gem. These young ladies appreciate this very much, indeed, and they desire me to say to Mr. H. that he is ever a welcome visitor at any and all of their homes.

Mr. John Carpenter, of Goodland, Ind., says: "I tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, for diarrhea and severe cramps and pains in the stomach and bowels with the best results. In the worst case I never had to give more than the third dose to effect a cure. In most cases one dose will do. Besides, the other good qualities it is pleasant to take." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. R. Fisher.

It is a fixed and immutable law that to have good sound health one must have pure, rich and abundant blood. There is no other nor surer route than by a course of Dr. Williams' Sarsaparilla. Sold by W. & H. Haynes, Cloverport, and heard dealer, Hardinsburg.

A Road Exhibit at The World's Fair.
Negotiations are pending between the World's Fair management and Col. Albert A. Pope, of Mass., for the establishment of a Road Department. This is a grand movement and the eye of the Nation will doubtless, soon be centered on a venture, where opportunities will be presented by the World's Columbian Exposition of teaching millions of visitors what good roads are, and how to make and maintain them.
A comprehensive display of how to make good roads with implements and a free distribution of suitable literature, explaining both the approved systems used in Europe and this country, would advance the movement a hundred years; and such an exhibit at the World's Exposition would be one of the most powerful factors in bringing about National and State Legislation for the construction and maintenance of good roads.
The poor farmer will remain poor without a change in the Road System, which is bad. The City depends upon him for support, he may own land, on which to raise an abundance, yet, it is scarcely human to kill himself and stock for the transportation of produce over bad roads. If there is vain complaint, discouragement follows. Thousands of such people deprived of finance and the advantages of school, church and social pleasures for the want of good roads, more to the City, and there find it much harder to make a living, the usual result being an increase to the record of poverty and crime. On the other hand these people may have been suited to the requirements of tilling the soil. Farmers need encouragement, the Nation should justly accord to this part of their constituency available advantage.
The American people will not refuse instruction on the subject of making roads. Col. Pope's movement is a broad one and will do no harm, meet with the approval of every energetic man in the United States. It will not only aid the farmer in road making, but in enterprise and civilization, at the same time teach the metropolitan how to construct beautiful roads. It will not only aid the enjoyment of the voter and taxpayer.
Such an exhibit in connection with the World's Fair, would attract the practical man as being a valuable feature in the school of public instruction.—Allen Hawthorne Mudd.

The Negro As a Criminal.

Federal census bulletin on homicide has been issued which has a special bearing on the fact that it gives the number of negroes arrested for homicide in comparison with the number of white persons born of native parents. The bulletin does not show that the negroes are more prone to the peevish disposition that characterized them. The basis of statistics is the number of persons arrested and held for homicide at the taking of the census, whether convicted or not. It appears that in 1880 there were 1,000 of native parentage held as suspects for homicide in the District of Columbia, while there were eight held; in Delaware there were 100 held; in Maryland there were 100 held; in Virginia, 45 whites and 91 negroes; in North Carolina, 20 whites and 136 negroes; in Georgia, 54 whites and 250 negroes; in Florida, 11 whites and 62 negroes. The total for this group of 13 States was 282 whites to 787 negroes, or one white to one negro, though population in the entire group was in excess of the African.

North Central group, composed of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Kansas, there were 204 whites to 204 negroes, or one white to one negro, though the population in these States is rather smaller than in the group.

South Central group, composed of Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, and Arkansas, there were 1,068 whites to 1,068 negroes, or one white to one negro, though the population in these States is rather smaller than in the group.

South Atlantic group, composed of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, and Arkansas, there were 1,068 whites to 1,068 negroes, or one white to one negro, though the population in these States is rather smaller than in the group.

Do you want money on short call? Call on R. L. Newsom.

Do you want to rent a house? Call on R. L. Newsom.

P. S.—Good paying renters are generally scarce at home. Let me put a "bug" in your ear. R. L. Newsom rents property and collects the rent on a commission of one per cent, and, renting being a specialty with him, don't you know it is better to place your property in his hands than to rent it yourself? Why? Because he is controlling a large amount of property and taking good paying renters find "habitually" and he soon gets rid of them. Newsom has but few complaints from good renters, but the "howl" comes from those few who do not want to pay, and to such he says: "Go on Somebody Else."

Do you want a house built and pay for it in monthly installments? For terms call on R. L. Newsom.
